Hymn by Vismut

Clues are presented in the alphabetical order of their solution and must be entered where they will fit. Read in normal clue order, an extra letter from the wordplay in some clues will give the first line of a hymn. In the completed grid solvers should draw a curved figure, without moving pen from paper, through the second line of the hymn, with the last word running into the first, for a hint of what is to be highlighted ( 31 letters). Any that are not complete grid entries - which, when lines are ignored, read as though they are - can be confirmed by the letters and enumeration of the spurious clue. Chambers Dictionary (2016) is recommended.
